STRATFORD

People are judged by the selection made by Judge Peck of gentlemen who are to act in an advisory capacity with the assessors in making a revaluation and reassessment of property at its true market value. Frank E. Conline comes out at the head of the list and is therefore chairman. He has long advocated a true valuation, being a large property holder, as well as informed on the value of real estate, he will now have a chance to see that all property for the grand list of 1910 is placed there in accordance with the law. William A. Stagg is a well known contractor and builder, as well as a prominent citizen, and his services will be valuable. Charles B. Curtis is the Democrat of the committee, an old and respected citizen, well informed regarding the value of real estate. It looks now as if the taxes would be equalized and the town treasury relieved of its anemic condition.

Mrs. Carlissa B. Curtis has been elected chaplain of the Order of the Eastern Star. An inventory of the estate of Susan E. C. Wilcoxson, deceased, reveals that she left property valued at $7,774. There are items which will enable the assessors to obtain the value of a number of pieces of real estate. There have been no forced sales in progress this afternoon at the residence of Miss Aufferd, East Broadway, for the benefit of the Missionary League of Christ church.

Tomorrow is Old Folks' Day at the Methodist church. The love feast begins at 10 o'clock and lasts for 45 minutes. A sermon by the pastor follows. It is now thought "Political Waters Run Deep" in this town. Tom Taylor would doubtless smile at results were he alive, and as for Peg Woffington she would go about town "joking" about the "boys." It is expected Mr. Peck will again make a dash about the public in a dramatic effort on the 28th of this month.

Gustave Castelott is on the sick list. William Perry is now able to get about on crutches. William Blamey went to Danbury on Wednesday. People are wondering why street sprinkling has been suspended on Main street. That thoroughfare is very dusty.

The new Board of Assessors met for the first time on Thursday evening. It was at work again yesterday ascertaining values of real property.

There was good laugh about town yesterday over the announcement that the "S. W. Hubbell Building Company have a contract from the Stratford Sunday School Edition." Exactly what kind of a contract it is nobody can guess.

A gentleman who lives up Oronoque way went to the Danbury fair on Thursday and was bitten by a monkey. He thought to pet the animal, and received a wound in one of his fingers.

Arrangements have been made to send carriages tomorrow for all the old folks who wish to go to the Methodist rally, and who are not able to get there any other way.

Very soon after the town voted the $2,000 extra, which the School Board asked for to complete the addition to the center school, a contract for the work was made with the S. W. Hubbell Building Company. The addition is to be built in accordance with the plans drawn long ago by Beckwith & Jackson.

Frederick Roberts and family have removed to Bridgeport.

Elliot W. Peck is the announced architect for the new factory to be built on Connecticut avenue by Weidlich Brothers.

Two or three young people in town are suffering from ivy and sumac poisoning. It would be a good thing if the town authorities would order the extermination of ivy vines—they are altogether too numerous.

Little local items of interest include the invention of a machine for printing names on tape; a harvest whist which is to be given on the 26th inst. by the Red Men; a large pumpkin on the bulletin in the case shop ordered purchased at the Grange food sale; a surprise party given to Mr. and Mrs. James Sanford at Beaver Dam; the faithful long list of unpaid taxes in the annual town report; the dance at Red Men's hall next Thursday evening; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Parrott have been visiting in New Canada; another straw ride is talked of up Trumbull way; Miss Rhoda King has gone to Stamford on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown and Col. Fitzgibbon went down to New York a day or two ago to attend the banquet of the Military Order of the Legion at Delmonico's; Mr. and Mrs. John Louis Thompson of Hartford are visiting the old home—stead on Church street.

A very enjoyable birthday party was recently given to Mrs. Elliott W. Peck at the home of her father, George W. Fairchild. Those who sat down to the table were Mr. Fairchild and his wife; George and Harry Fairchild with their wives and sons; Elliott W. Peck, wife and daughter; Carrie L. Peck, Margaret Stratton, Marie C. Brown and Hattie and Mary Fairchild.

Dr. Packard will preach at the Congregational church tomorrow morning and evening.

CITY BRIEFS

The Methodist Pastors' Association of Bridgeport and vicinity will hold its thirty-first meeting next Monday afternoon and evening at the Nichols M. E. church. Dr. G. M. Brown, pastor of the First M. E. church, will preach at the evening session.

A meeting of the Federation of Men's Clubs was held last night, in the parlors of the First Baptist church. Plans for a banquet were discussed. It was decided to cooperate with the Y. M. C. A. in the week of prayer, beginning Nov. 23.

The boss barbers met last night at Charles Roan's shop, 246 State street and organized with J. J. Meyers, president, Chris Ronal, vice president; Howard Gotthardt, secretary, and Nicholas Gallo, treasurer. It was voted to keep open shop until 9 o'clock Monday evening, and to close at noon on Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

Some 30 nurses, members of the Nurses Alumni Association, met at the Stratford last night and heard an instructive talk on the work of the Fairfield County Anti-Tuberculosis Association by Alderman Dudley B. Bulard, its president.

The Baptist state convention will be held at Mystic, Oct. 18-20. Delegates have been chosen by Immanuel church, Danbury, as follows: Rev. C. F. W. Ahrens, Deacon S. T. Velle and Deacon George F. Porter. Another delegate will be appointed by the Stratford church. The following have been chosen by the First Baptist church: Rev. G. W. Nicholson, Deacon Marshall Morris, Deacon W. A. Griffin, Deacon W. J. Platt, Arthur E. Warner, and Theodore T. Phillips.

See Dazie at Poll's next week.
